The Most Searched for Terms in Canada

Maps via Pornhub \(http://www.pornhub.com/insights/canadas-top-search-terms\)

After a request from VICE Canada, a Pornhub insights (<http://www.pornhub.com/insights/canadas-top-search-terms>) map was released today revealing what search terms are most often helping Canadians get off. Much like the United States Pornhub analytics that were released last month, "lesbian" dominated the charts for much of Canada. However, some choice terms that are inherently Canadian made their way into our country's top searched porn terms.

"Eskimo," which is an offensive word that refers to Indigenous people living in the northern hemisphere, topped Nunavut's Pornhub searches. And in a stereotypical French Canadian move, "Quebec" was the most searched-for term in Quebec—yes, the Quebecois apparently love themselves so much that they strictly want to watch each other fuck (or want to hear 'you like that?!?' en Francais). Inexplicably, "cartoon" was the top search in the Yukon.

Most Searched Relative Terms in Canada

Compared to other provinces

In Pornhub's relative search term analytics, pictured above, which shows top searches in a province relative to other provinces, more sexual preferences were revealed. In BC, more people are searching for "Asian" relative to the rest of Canada. And in additional questionable race fetishizing searches, "Native" was more common in Manitoba than the rest of the country and "Indian" was a popular search in Ontario.

Though we clearly don't have the strangely specific incestuous obsession that the United States' map showed last month—including top searches for "step mom" and "step sister," it's pretty clear that Canadians have some weird fetishes. From "tickling" being a popular search in the Yukon to "hentai" in the Northwest Territories to "smoking" in New Brunswick, Canadians are definitely getting some weird boners.

"questionable race fetishizing searches"? Wth are you talking about? It's just demographics.

There are simply more Asian people in B.C., more Native people in Manitoba, and more Indian people in Ontario. Any Canadian knows that. The writer's rush to be judgemental turns out to be more comical than topical.

The conclusion the "author" comes to has nothing to do with demographics, I would know this too, I'm Canadian as well but the so- called "comical factor " isn't perceived equally throughout the nation apparently...

Most of the porn (among many other things) that is made in the world is in English to be sure that Americans and english Canadians can jerk off in their own language. Maybe other people also like to spend some time doing this activity without having to use Google Translate to understand everything. I wouldn't consider that racism if we learn that Japanese watch their porn in Japanese and people in France watch their's in French. like you seem to infer...

If a writer has no data to explain/support the results or research methods maybe that person should keep her half-assed conclusions to herself and take an ethics class instead ...

"The Quebecois apparently love themselves so much that"

What about "asian" in Vancouver and "indian" in Toronto, then? Not to mention "eskimo". Apparently loving its own kind is a pretty common thing.

"The Quebecois apparently love themselves so much that they strictly want to watch each other fuck or want to hear 'you like that?!?' en Francais." Hahaha! Dude that shit is so funny. Although, Quebec has the reputation of always doing their own thing (probably because of the language barrier) and it apparently even apply to the porn industry. I don't think it's necessarily a bad thing tho.
