STUDY SHOWS: 'The More Religious The State, The More Porn Is Consumed'

Posted on October 7, 2014

Oops. Bubba and Erline's been bad. Check it out.

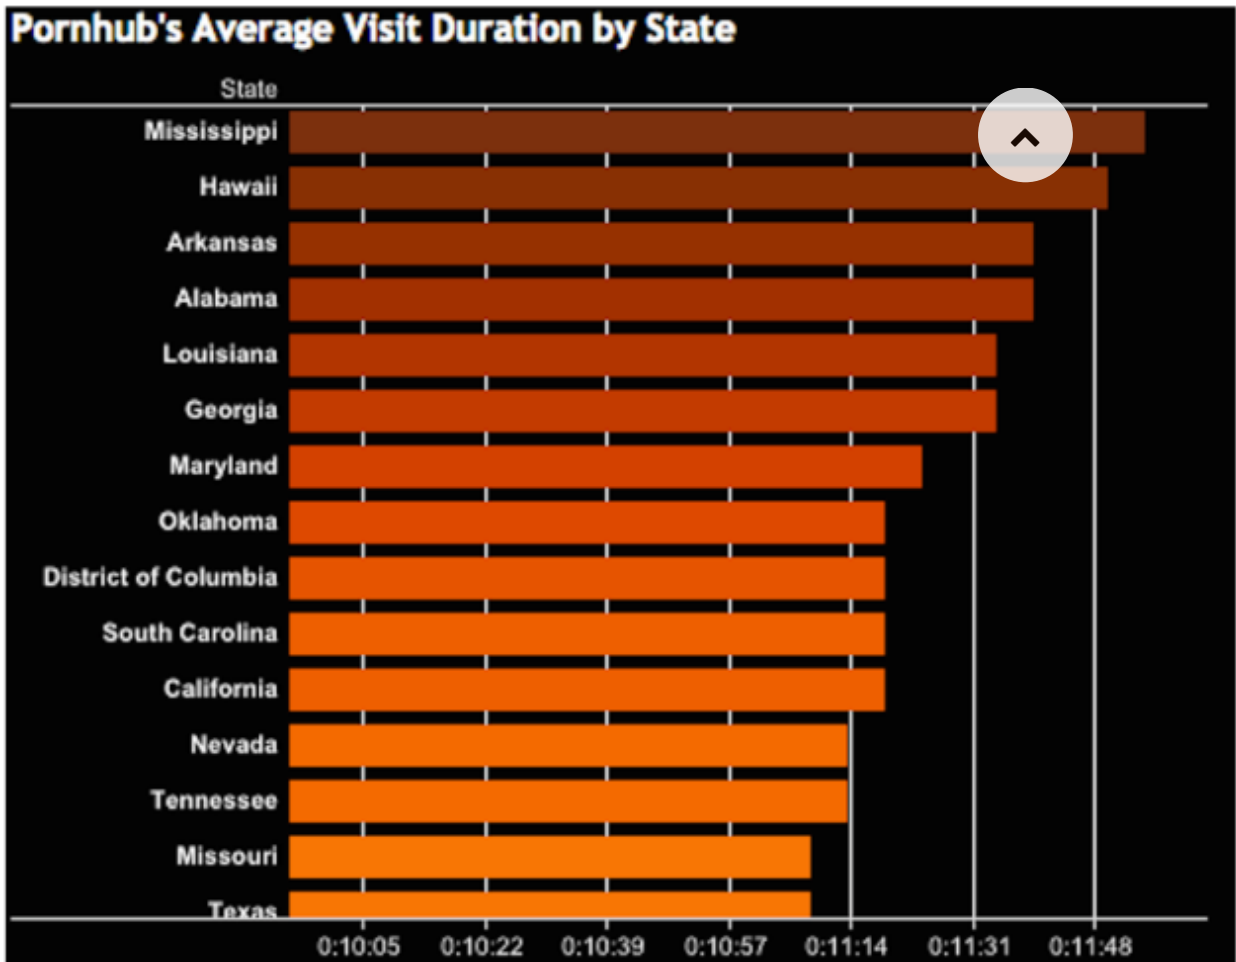

The news: Christian in the streets, porn lover in the sheets?

That's the finding of a new study published in the journal Archives of Sexual Behavior. Canadian researchers at Brock University analyzed Google Trends data from 2011 and 2012 that related to sex and porn terms and analyzed how they overlapped with a 2011 Gallup survey about religiosity and conservatism.

The result: States with big populations of self-identified religious conservatives were significantly more likely to search for terms such as "gay sex," "gay porn" and "sex." The strongest and most persistent link was between conservatism and a Google Image search for "sex."

"At minimum, these Internet-search data clearly demonstrate that those living in states with greater proportions of very religious or conservative citizenry nonetheless seek out and experience the forbidden fruit of sexuality in private settings," the researchers wrote.

This is in line with previous findings. A 2009 study also found that religious, conservative states were more likely to buy porn online. The 27 states that passed laws banning same-sex marriage had 11% more porn subscriptions than states that didn't, and states where the majority of people said they had "old-fashioned values about family and marriage" bought 3.6 more subscriptions per thousand people.

All us Christians are doing is researching what people of other faiths or no faith at all are doing. We are "not" doing our research for our own personal pleasure. So stop pickin on us!

Sorry to say it's true, because Christianity is the one thing perverted freaks can hide behind well and never seem bad.

Church I left had porn addicts and wife beaters. Pastor for years would say it was 50% of the church. I eventually had to ask why they were not being delivered, not repenting, not changing and the self-righteous pastor said, well Lisa, we just have to keep praying. I said sorry, but after you saying the same thing all the time, and then saying wives must endure to keep marriages, tells me you enable and you allow for basket filling. YES, I got, if you don't like it and other things you're complaining about leave. I left, because abuse that is ignored for money, along with kissing ass to foreign countries versus USA and poor in our own county violates the Gospel and I have to be right with Jesus. So, this column is true. Churches can hide a lot you want covered up and made to look good under Bible guise

Yes, the liberals will hide behind Christianity like the way Moslems hide behind women and children in war.

The bad hide behind the good.

Thank you. This is why we are told meditate on His word daily. We are warned about false teaching, anti-Christ's, sexual immorality, etc. If we allow it or go along, we are just as bad. Call it out, even if you're told to leave. Of course we try to get people delivered, and we must, but over time, if they don't, don't think they will. You wither want Jesus or Satan

As a conclusion, sex is God's gift for both joy and procreation. If the birds and the bees do it, so could human/ mankind enjoy it within some moral perimeters. Enough said!!

Who gets to set these "moral perimeters"? You????

TheLisaRichards → LABOB • a year ago

God set the moral perimeters we cannot breach or violate, because "the wages of sin" really is death. Sexual immorality brings destruction in every form. Even to say do whatever makes you feel good in your bedroom can be bad if your spouse wants porn, other people doing it with you both, that can lead to sex addictions and even violence in order to get what makes the addiction feel good. Whatever can mean raping one's wife, so that's not good. Whatever can mean open marriage and that destroys marriage and family and can even lead to someone not liking to be part of a trio and doing something insane

To: 'Labob'. You sure like to rub your left-wing values to right-wing posters! Unless you're castrated and you have a pulse, you will be attracted to women the way bees are attracted to pollen! One thing I have noticed in our Canadian evangelical churches is that a lot of clergy people seem to "dodge" the issue of sex, preferring to push the marriage issue (sadly enough, the lonely singles do feel left out). Having read this blog on 'Clash Daily' appears to be contradictory (no writer's name has been included).

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

PoliticsVsTruth • a year ago

I believe the study and here's why: The poll takers are operating off of completely verifiable objective raw data anyone can access. Had they done a typical poll where they called up people and asked, "Are you a Christian?" and then followed up with "How much time do you spend looking at porn?", you can only imagine the skew that would exist as Christians lied to the pollster LOL!

1 ^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Every study ever taken shows the very same results. The more religious & homophobic a person is the more gay porn they watch!!!!

Gays have their own religion but have learned to be parasitical by hiding behind Christians. This is nothing new.

^ | v • Reply • Share ›

Gays have slithered into the church thanks to the tolerance toking morons who say its okay to be gay rather than welcoming all sinners and saying we love you, but not the sin, and God hates sin because He said the wges of sin are death, so throw off the sin, deny it, reject it and clean up your life so you can have a really good life

Not always in that case. I'm a devout Jesus follower and I consider homosexuality to be sexual perversion that can lead to child molestation and more. You could neither. It's sick, it's not of God. The Bible is specific about sex and God created it to be a certain way and that way is the only good, moral and right way

Absolutely Ridiculous! This artical is from "mic.com" which took it from "porn hub" The original artical made no reference to "Christianity" at all. Only showing "by state" Google search history. The "pointing at Christians" came from "News Mic.com" The headline could have also read States with "highest teen populations" or States with "Highest white populations". Or something even more rediculous, like "highest male population" The original artical only points out the amount of time spent searching for artical "topic searches". I read it! It only means that these states have people who are under heavy enfluence of sin. Can a Christian sin? God forbid! But, the answer is yes. The reality is that this country is under a lot of sinful stresses and pornography isn't the only problem. STOP PUSHING an anti Christian agenda!

2 ^ | v · Reply · Share ›

jong · a year ago

And of course this like so many other surveys means less than nothing. All it reveals to me is that the Christians have been able to root out porn so those that want it have to go to the internet to get it. Liberals of course will try of course to derive other conclusions from it in vain.

The conservative Southerners. Thank you for insulting 50% of my family and this country. As if sex addicts are not in every region and everywhere. I am not sure about all that but do know that the Church isn't teaching God's Word but only doing sermons where people have no need to bring their Bibles. Our youth don't care either way as to them, sex as a teen is OK, cell phones a must, computer games is their babysitter and sports is more important then learning anything. A friend just told me last night that at church, the elders had a meeting to allow gays to marry. Not of God's rules to do but they had one anyway and the pastor and elders decided to ask the church to see how they felt. 200 people showed up, mostly the young, 160 said sure, it is OK and the rest? Well, they were the older group who believes that God's Word is truth and said no. You know who won, and the older group just lost their church and so they left. IT is too late for America unless God Himself does something to wake this youth up.

"As in the earlier days of ancient Rome, they ate, drank, did usual business, gave their daughters in marriage, bought/sold land (and properties), etc.,. So it shall be before the return of the Son of Man."

It is a repeated situation from a former "great" empire who eventually became a smaller empire. Have mercy on us, Lord Jesus!

Study is kind of strange. Here is why, every distributor has a huge list of zip codes, where he can't ship adult material, including video, toys, etc., because of the local laws. You can go to jail, or pay huge fines, if you do. Most of those Zip codes, if not all, are in southern more religious states. Of course you still can watch using Internet, but you can't order and receive legally online. And it's because of obscenity laws, that exist in those states, or big part of that state.

I am a Christian. My contact with porn was limited and destructive to my mind. I have not seen any for about a decade. 'And even then it was very brief and by accident. That was by choice.
As to whether Christian and conservatives look at porn, I do not know. God will judge that. As to whether their conservative position and stand publicly is correct, IT ABSOLUTELY IS.
Truth is NOT based on who believes it.
'Righteousness is not based on who does it or not.
So this entire study was done with ONLY the purpose of somehow denigrating good people.

Fact: In my 66 years, I have observed that the very HARSHEST criticism of those who are trying to do good is by those who WANT to do what their own conscience condemns them for. and yet they divert their OWN KNOWLEDGE by attacking others who claim to be good and desperately work to find ANYTHING WRONG.

That does not change right and wrong. It is a PR game and a mind game where they try to justify there own wickedness.

You are right on, 'AD Roberts'. As of the previous poster who said that some Christian churches would have the 'fortitude' of allowing gay marriages, I would say, "where is the fine dividing line between right and wrong? Good and bad? Black and white?". The Pandora's box of values is open, never to be clo-sed again by mankind. My Lord, my heart and conscience grieve to a point of throwing up! Enough said!!

Everyone has a religion-including atheists who worship the god of nothing but themselves.
So this study means nothing. I will say that I suspect if you could trace those online, I bet you you'd find alot of them are immigrants and aliens. Why? I've worked in a sector made up of all immigrants and they don't seem to see a contradiction with mixing perversion with their religions.
